GENERAL NEWS.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

A Newspaper's Prediction.

NEW YORK, Nov 10.—The Bulletin says pathetic speculations here are discounting the [illegible] of [illegible], by saying Pacific Mail. It also [illegible] that the recent election means an early repeal of the silver bill, which will go down with greenback currency. It believes the government will issue bonds for greenbacks—in other words fund [illegible] and that this will be one of the first acts of the coming administration.

The Legion of Honor.

The Herald says of Piercy's play last night: It is [illegible] a strong and moving story, the individualization is admirable, the language exalted without [illegible]. Mr Piercy has grown wonderfully in [illegible] since his last appearance here and has [illegible] well knit characterization. The World says: With the beginning of the second act, the play becomes intense and the interest is [illegible] and naturally continued up to the duel, which is one of the most striking scenes ever presented upon a New York stage. The Legion of Honor is, in short, a remarkable play. The Sun says: Dr. Callahan seems in no way to have marred the original. The play proved so powerful [illegible] through [illegible] inherent strength that the audience received it with enthusiastic favor. The Times says: Some of the situations are very strong, the dialogue is well sustained and the play [illegible] to achieve a popular success.

A Large Suit.

NEW YORK, Nov 10.—A suit of the United States against Julius B Penge, of the firm of Penge & Pin[illegible], to recover damages amounting to $400,000 for alleged under valuation of importations of kid [illegible] was commenced this afternoon in the U S district court, before Judge Choate. The case excited much interest among importers. The goods in question were imported from Breslau and the government alleges that the invoices were largely undervalued.

Bishop Paddock.

NEW YORK, Nov 10.—Rev J A Paddock, appointed by the recent Episcopal convention bishop of Washington territory, has resigned the rectorship of St Peter's, Brooklyn, which he has held for twenty years, and will be consecrated about Dec 15th. He is a brother of Bishop Paddock, of Massachusetts, and has been active in forwarding mission work among the Indians.

Clearing House Transactions.

NEW YORK, Nov 10.—Clearing house exchanges [illegible] week were surprisingly large in view of the fact that the presidential contest caused a complete suspension of business on Tuesday and the general neglect of business on Monday. The obvious explanation is that there was a notable increase of activity as soon as the result of the presidential and congressional election was known, and the uncertainties were removed. Whether this [illegible] who [illegible], but it is undeniable that a sense of safety had immediate and favorable effect upon all the markets in respect of purchases for manufacture, for consumption or for investment. Wherever speculation [illegible] the result a decline in prices was [illegible], though the purchases were unusually large [illegible] so largely affected by a temporary pause, [illegible] by comparison little indication of the general condition of business but the aggregate, $1 1[illegible], [illegible] has rarely been surpassed and the amount [illegible] of this city has not been exceeded for many [illegible] we believe, if ever, except in one week in [illegible].

The Public's table shows that, compared with the same week last year, the following towns show an increase in clearing house transactions: New York, [illegible] per cent; Boston 3.7, Chicago 14.5, Cincinnati [illegible], St Louis 9.J, New Orleans, 15.6, Louisville [illegible], Pittsburg 36.1, Providence, 18.4, Kansas City, [illegible], Indianapolis, 30.8, Cleveland, 10.4, New Haven [illegible], Syracuse 17.8, Lowell 10.4. The following show [illegible]: Philadelphia, 10.8, Baltimore 5.0, San Francisco, 26.5, Milwaukee 13.0. There is much [illegible] speculation this year except in securities and [illegible] business transaction has been in an unusual degree of legitimate character.

A Political Fisticuff.

NEW YORK, Nov 10.—One Drum who defeated [illegible] Morris for nomination in King's county and [illegible] Morris openly denounced therefor attacked him in a restaurant to-day, striking him and [illegible] him in the face.

Railroad Consolidation Rumored.

CHICAGO, Nov 10.—The Daily News' New York [illegible] says there was a special meeting of the Central Pacific and Union Pacific directors and the large stockholders here last night at the residence of [illegible] Huntington, of the Central Pacific road, for the purpose of arranging a consolidation and [illegible] of the two roads and branches. [illegible] was present and it was rumored late last night a basis had been arranged and a consolidation scheme was decided upon, the details of which are to be submitted to the stockholders. It is [illegible] the shipment of over 30 000 shares of Central Pacific stock to London last week shows that [illegible] managers expect to float the stock in Europe.

ST LOUIS, Nov 10.—The general ticket and passenger agents of the Wabash, Indianapolis, St [illegible], Ohio and Mississippi and Vandalia roads held a meeting this afternoon and agreed upon the following special rates for limited tickets: Boston and New York $42 50, Philadelphia $37 50, Baltimore and Washington, $30, and others in proportion. The [illegible] claims this cut is purely protective.

CHICAGO, Nov 10.—The Inter-Ocean's New York special: Report that important business is to be transacted at the meeting of the Union Pacific directors is denied. Rumors of consolidation of the [illegible] and Central Pacific are universally discredited.

[illegible] Midgeley, commissioner of the southwestern [illegible], gives for publication the official record of the [illegible], which clearly shows that Jay Gould and the [illegible] are to be blamed for the [illegible] outbreak among the railroads and [illegible] Gould is really the aggressor while [illegible] to throw upon Mr Blackstone of the Alton [illegible] the precipitation of the war by violating [illegible] agreement to which he became a party. Blackstone [illegible] he never signed the agreement as worded. [illegible] testimony is corroborated by Mingle who [illegible] secretary of the presidents meeting and by [illegible] who were present.

Resigned for Higher Honors.

[illegible], Nov 10.—Garfield to-day resigned as a member of congress from the 19th district. Gar[illegible] district has been changed in boundaries since [illegible], but the election of a new member will [illegible] the district as constituted when he was [illegible]. This is held to be an equitable arrangement under the law.

After killing [illegible] McManus said he went to San Francisco [illegible] about west for several months, coming [illegible] last July. The Philadelphia authorities [illegible] the Chicago police to detain him so there [illegible] ground for his self accusation.

Music Teacher Shot.

[illegible], N Y, Nov 10. Russell Dart, a prominent [illegible], shot Emil Sifert, a music teacher, for making love to young Miss Dart while teaching her. [illegible] had been forbidden the house and yesterday [illegible] and drawing a carving knife threatened to [illegible] who separated him from Dart's daughter. Supersedeas Refused.

[illegible], Nov 10.—The State Supreme Court to-day [illegible] a public decision, refusing supersedeas [illegible] case of the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern [illegible] Western Indiana Railroad. MONTGOMERY, Nov 10.—The house organized with Dawson speaker. The governor's message deals entirely with state matters. The election for a senator to fill the place occupied by Pryor occurs Tuesday the 23d. The principal names are Walt, Walker, Pugh, Bradford and O'Neil.

A Fruitless Interview—Mahone's Position.

Gen Mahone, senator elect from Virginia, arrived in Washington last night and was to-day interviewed with very small results. In reply to the question what will be his future position in politics he said that nobody but himself knows. There is my most intimate friend, pointing to Collector Brady of Petersburg, he does not even know my position. If you will find exactly how I stand and let me know I will give you $10 000. Notwithstanding this facetiously evasive answer, there has been several indications to-day that he contemplates some sort of alliance with the republicans. Collector Brady, who is his most intimate friend and who accompanied him here from Virginia, is a strong republican. Gen Mahone since his arrival last night has been visited by republicans and not by democrats. He was in conference this morning with Gen. C Gorham and immediately after the unsatisfactory interview with the reporter went to his rooms with Collector Brady and Mr A M Clapp to carry out a meeting which had been prearranged by Brady. Gorham said to-day after a talk with him that in his opinion Mahone would act with the republicans rather than with the democrats.

Mahone Vindictive.

CHICAGO, Nov 10.—The Inter-Ocean's Washington special says: While Mahone is independent he leans strongly to the republicans and is bitter almost to vindictiveness against the democrats on account of the shabby treatment he received from Barnum's committee. He may or may not go into the republican caucus but will not go into the democratic and will be avenged.

Grover's Importance.

There is considerable inquiry in political circles just now touching the health of Senator Grover. Should he be too unwell to attend the session of the senate, the republicans, with Mahone's vote, would have a majority without the vote of the vice president. Should he die the Oregon legislature, being republican, will send a republican successor, and in such event the republicans would have the senate regardless of how Mahone might act. Some time ago Senator Grover was at Wilmington, Delaware, very ill. There were doubts then whether he would ever sufficiently recover to take his seat in the senate. He was subsequently reported to be improving but has not recently been heard from in Washington.

Hunting Frauds and Catching Tartars.

CINCINNATI, O, Nov 10.—The Commercial's Indianapolis special shows what a ridiculous figure is cut by Democratic politicians who are trying to prove Republican frauds in the October elections. The only thing they have so far attained is to add to their own confusion and to reveal U. S Commissioner Lewis Jordan, a Democrat, in some very peculiar proceedings. One case has already been given in which Mr Jordan overpersuaded a man to make an affidavit to what he did not believe was true, alleging that the affidavit was a mere matter of form and now come two other instances. John F. Rehard, of Wabash county, was arraigned for swearing in an illegal vote in Pleasant township. The prosecuting witness testified that he knew nothing personally about the voter whether he was a legal voter or not, but a number of persons in Wabash county insisted that he should make the affidavit against Rehard, that on the top of this he received a telegram from Indianapolis signed Hunter, asking him to come here and make the affidavit and he would receive his expenses. The names of these interested persons were extracted from the witness and suits for malicious arrest and prosecution are likely to follow. The second case was that of Elder B Chase, pastor of the Christian Church of Wabash, arrested for voting without having acquired a residence in the State. Chase agreed on the 31st of March with the official board of the Christian Church to preach for them and began his ministry on the 1st of May. The interim was spent by him in preparing to move from Peoria, Ill, his old home. It is claimed the intention to make Indiana his home was fixed in March which made him a legal voter. The affidavit for his arrest was made by a man who is said to be one of the most worthless characters in Wabash and the arrest caused much excitement there. Mr Chase was discharged upon his own statement. It should be remembered that those swift prosecutors McDonald and Scott have not been fit to take up any cases submitted to them by the Republicans.

A Scratch even for the Counters.

MONTGOMERY, Ala, Nov 10.—Major General Wheeler's majority over Lowe, greenbacker and independent, in the 8th congressional district is 44.

The Florida Fashion.

TAMMANY FRAUD CRY.

The Conspirators at Work—Their Programme.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

PHILADELPHIA, Nov 10.—The Ledger's New York correspondent has learned from perfectly reliable sources that Tammany committees are at work obtaining what are called legal proofs of alleged illegal voting in no less than 22 assembly districts. These committees will submit their report to the board of state canvassers, which meets at Albany on the 17th. There is but one democrat on the board, Horatio Seymour, Jr, and while the majority will undoubtedly declare Garfield's electors duly chosen Seymour on the faith of Tammany affidavits supported by additional evidence of illegal voting which it is understood will be furnished by the democratic state committee will declare the Hancock electors duly chosen. This it is expected will at once bring the issue before congress, and following the Louisiana precedent, the further expectation is that that body will not hesitate to go behind the returns and see just what the alleged frauds amount to in fact. In the interim public interest in the controversy is to be kept alive by mass meetings at Irving Hall and Cooper Institute. A prominent member of the democratic national committee is desirous of having it understood that that body is not taking any active part in the pending investigation.

One of Barnum's Protests

RONDOUT, N Y, Nov 10.—The chairman of the Ulster county democratic committee served upon the board of canvassers of Ulster county a protest against counting the republican electoral ballots claiming that said ballots did not conform to the requirements of the statute in that they contain both caption and endorsement and that the names of several candidates are not printed in plain type with letters of uniform size. Ulster heretofore largely democratic, on the 2d inst gave Garfield 100 majority.

SYRACUSE, Nov 10.—The Courtland Co board of canvassers democratic protested against counting the electoral ballots on the ground of double headings. Protests will be forwarded.

HUDSON, N Y, Nov 10.—The chairman and secretary of the democratic county committee served upon the board of canvassers of Columbia county protests against the counting of the republican electoral congressional assembly and county tickets on the ground that such ballots were illegally endorsed. The protests were ordered placed on file and the board adjourned till Thursday to take legal advice on the question. The board comprises 17 republicans and 10 democrats.

THE TILDENITES IN COUNCIL.

They also Raise the Cry of Fraud and make Fools of Themselves.

[SPECIAL TO THE OREGONIAN.]

NEW YORK, Nov 10.—The executive committee of Irving Hall met to-night. The report of the sub committee to which was referred the matter of comparing the census returns with the vote polled with a view to ascertain the fraudulent vote cast was presented. It sets forth that prominent among the causes which produced the democratic defeat in the last election must be reckoned the secession from the [illegible] party in 1879 which resulted in the election of a republican state government whose machinery was used to [illegible] votes to Garfield. The report charges that colonization, intimidation and bribery in large part [illegible] the increased republican vote was due. It suggests that a congressional investigation be held so that the frauds may be prevented in the future, and says the corruption of the Irish [illegible] of New York is of more importance than the result of the presidential election and must be checked. The report was adopted but a resolution to petition congress to appoint a committee was referred to a sub-committee. A resolution declaring that the democratic defeat was due to incompetent leaders both of Irving and Tammany hall was lost. The sub-committee was continued and the [illegible].

DYING AS THE DEMOCRACY DIED

Barnum's Fraud Cry Discountenanced—Gen Hancock Denounces it and Decent Democrats Disclaim It

[illegible]

WASHINGTON, Nov 10.—[illegible] Star this evening says: A letter from Gen Hancock [illegible] In the letter Gen Hancock emphatically says he has no lot nor part in the agitation [illegible] throwing [illegible] of New York [illegible] believe that God was [illegible] be [illegible] without any fuss.

The anxiety expressed in many quarters [illegible] that the [illegible] field's election by throwing out the vote of New York has been effectually disposed of to-day by [illegible] from the state democratic committee [illegible] any support to any such proposition and by [illegible] apparently well authenticated declaration of General Hancock that he is totally opposed to the agitation and believes Garfield was fairly elected. It is now believed that the fomenters of the agitation will receive no encouragement from the influential leaders of the party and that the movement to invalidate the legality of the vote of the state of New York for Garfield and Arthur will not amount to anything more than a minority protest [illegible] not soon become ridiculous.

THE [illegible] SCOUNDRELISM.

PERJURY CONFESSED IN SUPPORT OF FORGERY.

And the Job Paid for by the Democratic National Committee—A Sober Affort in National Politics.

[SPECIAL TO THE OREGONIAN.]

NEW YORK, Nov 10.—S S Morey and Robert Lindsay were examined on the perjury charge to-day. J N Morey of Boston testified that S S Morey never had an uncle named H L Morey. Lindsay confessed that his true name was James O'Brien and while employed as a laborer in a gas house at Georgetown he took the alias of Morey and registered from Cumberland. He was asked what he had to say in relation to the charge of perjury, and he replied "I wish to make an explanation." The judge thereupon ordered the reporters to retire and O'Brien's statement was taken. It will be laid before the grand jury. Morey also made a statement. The prisoners were then sent to the Tombs.

Henry J Johnson, postmaster at Cumberland and editor of the Daily Witness said O'Brien is known to be a member of Cornell's band and is supposed to have been with Cornell when he shot at Paymaster Fawcett on the Chesapeake and Ohio canal.

The Times furnishes the following: When Morey and Lindsey were arrested on Tuesday evening the former, who is an invalid, was placed in charge of his uncle John W Morey, the Boston policeman who came to testify at the trial of Philp. Members of the Morey family and especially Mrs Clark, Morey asked permission to see him and one old lady said she was sure she could make "Sammy tell the truth." She visited him at the hotel where his uncle had him in charge in company with other members of the family and besought him for all their sakes to make a clean breast of the whole affair. The young man burst into tears and offered to tell the whole story to Col. Bliss who was present but Bliss being the prosecutor in the perjury case refused to hear it and advised him to tell it to the magistrate when he was brought up for examination in the morning. Morey then made a confession to his uncle and yesterday morning when he appeared before Justice Morgan in the district attorney's office, was fully prepared to make a true statement of the means used to induce him to come to New York to testify falsely to the existence of Henry L. Morey. As soon as he announced this determination the justice and the room cleared and the confession was taken in secret. Morey said the scheme for bringing him to this city to testify as to the existence of H L Morey originated in the law office of Jno Sanborn in Lawrence, Mass, and was the result of a conspiracy between Al Clark and Sanborn. Clark keeps a pool room in Lawrence and Sanborn is a lawyer, and was a candidate for presidential elector on the democratic ticket in Massachusetts. Morey was examined by Clark in Sanborn's office before coming here, and both Clark and Sanborn knew he was coming to New York to testify to a lie. Clark volunteered with him to pay his expenses and take him back out of the money he was to receive for his testimony. The two came to this city before the election and Morey was quartered for the first two nights in the rooms of the national democratic committee. On the day after his arrival he was taken to the office of the paper which published the forgery where he was asked if he could recognize the handwriting of Henry L. Morey, his reputed uncle. He answered he could. He said it was large and bold. He was shown no hotel register at this time, but next day he was taken to the newspaper office again and shown the name of Henry L Morey in the Lynn hotel register and asked if he recognized it. He said he did, and was taken away again. Every word of his testimony on the stand in the Philp case was a lie and he had been educated to tell it. When he left New York to return to Lawrence after giving his testimony he received $150 from the national democratic committee in the form of a check drawn to his order on the National Park bank of this city. He drew the money and refunded to Clark the advance which he had made for his expenses and went home.

Robert Lindsay, or James O'Brien as he now claims his name to be, was also brought to the district attorney's office from police headquarters where he had passed the night, for examination by Justice Morgan on a charge of perjury at about the same time Morey was produced. While Morey was making his confession Lindsay was kept in District Attorney Phelps' office. An employe of the lawyer who had been defending Philp visited him and after asking a single question and getting his reply, hurried away. In a short time the lawyer's employe returned and said something to the prisoner and again left. His lawyer has deserted him, said a prominent official when the clerk had gone. Lindsay looked very much frightened, and after a few moments' hesitation sent a request that Assistant District Attorney Bell would see him. When Mr Bell arrived Lindsay asked if any confession would free him from the consequences of his crime. Bell answered he could not promise that, but in the event of Lindsay confessing he should feel disposed to take into serious consideration the propriety of dealing leniently with him. Lindsay then expressed his willingness to make a full statement.

Morey was ushered into the presence of Justice Morgan. According to Lindsay's story his real name is James O'Brien and he is a native of Washington, D. C., where he has lived nearly all his life. He has done nothing in particular for a living but was one of the rough men about the city and has been in the penitentiary twice for disorderly conduct. He was sent for to go to Cumberland, Md, just before the election by Wm M Price, candidate for presidential elector on the democratic ticket and when he arrived Price and the police officer named Birmingham instructed him in the role which he was to play in this city in regard to the Morey letter. They taught him the story which he was to tell, took him to prominent mines in the neighborhood and tried to drill him into the exact knowledge of their location and features, but as subsequent events proved the time was too short or the man too stupid. When he was supposed to be thoroughly informed Price & Birmingham bought his ticket and sent him to this city consigned to the paper which first published the letter. In the office of this paper he was questioned and given money with a promise of more when his work was completed. His testimony from beginning to end was a fabrication.

At the conclusion of the examination Morey was returned to the custody of his uncle, and Lindsay was sent to the Tombs. The lawyers for the defense all and severally wash their hands of any responsibility for the inculpated witnesses Morey and O'Brien.

In the absence of Hart, counsel, the latter's partner said as far as Mr. Hart and his counsel they are entirely innocent of any impropriety in the matter. Indeed Mr Hart [illegible] O'Brien distinctly to understand before he gave his evidence that in so far as he told truth he (Hart) would stand by him, but if he caught him lying, he would be one of the first to urge his punishment.

The Times says the only members of the democratic national committee in the city yesterday were Abram S Hewitt and William L Scott. Hewitt said he knew nothing beyond what he had previously testified to in court. He had spoken the whole truth and had hoped to be relieved for any further connection with the Chinese letter. Hewitt being reminded that O'Brien had sworn that he was directed to come to New York by the national democratic committee replied that shortly after the alleged Chinese letter was published, a dispatch which was printed in the Washington Post in which O'Brien was said to be acquainted with Morey came under his notice. He advised the committee to bring O'Brien to New York and a telegram was sent to a member of the Maryland committee to see whether he could not be induced to repeat his newspaper interview under oath. The result was that O'Brien came to New York. Hewitt knew nothing more about him. He did not even know whether he called at the democratic headquarters, was pretty sure he was not examined by any member of the committee. Scott said plainly that he did not wish to be subjected to an interview. He received an inkling of the confessions and was satisfied they were infamous lies out of whole cloth. There was no necessity to say anything more.

The democratic national committee had nothing to do with the defense of Philp. Scott remembered that on the Saturday previous to the election a telegram was received from an unknown man in Lynn, Mass, saying a nephew of H. L. Morey was there and willing to swear that his uncle existed. Happening to be in charge of the committee rooms at that moment, Scott gave directions to send the nephew on to New York. Scott left New York the same evening and afterward learned that Morey arrived on Sunday but knew nothing more about him. Scott did not return until election day. He said Morey might have received $150 from the committee by representing that he was the nephew of H. L. Morey and had incurred expenses in coming to New York. The committee having directed his coming, was of course compelled to pay his expenses. He was not sure however that Morey was paid his expenses. Morey might have deliberately swindled the committee.

THE OREGON PACIFIC R. R. CO.

STATEMENT AND REPLY.

Presentation of the Case of the Company by Mr. Wallis Nash

CORVALLIS, Nov 8, 1880.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

The Oregon Pacific Railroad Co is much obliged to you for your unsolicited advertisement of its prospectus and of the circular issued by the New York, New England and Western Investment company. And I, for one, have not the slightest objection to our enemies venturing into print, since all the world knows that even a sorry scarecrow stuffed with old rags looms large and formidable in the dark, however contemptible it is in the broad light of day. But I think that so practised a writer as "Examiner" would have served his purpose better had he given additional force to his weapon by the use of his own name. Perhaps though he knew best and was conscious that some acts and some names have to be hidden, even though the veil be as thin as "a citizen of Oregon, as interested in preventing misleading statements from going about without contradiction to do injury in future to legitimate enterprises in our state."

After reading that last sentence I think I appreciated your reluctance in complying with the request to print this review without giving also the prospectus and circular your correspondent was assailing, for there is yet to be found a citizen of Oregon, I am thankful to believe, who actuated by public motives and having no dark private end to gain will distort facts, raise again false pretences already thrice slain, strive to mislead public opinion, discredit large and important sections of his own state and the citizens inhabiting and striving to develop the same, and do his little best to scare away outside capital from coming to the aid.

Brave words you will say, yes, but the facts are there to justify the prospectus, and the people of this valley are making this cause their own as you will see by the statement from Albany brought me by the post to-night, and which I enclose for publication with this letter. Six millions five hundred and twenty thousand bushels of wheat, the product of these valley counties this very year—no sneers, no hard words from any "Examiner" or any president of the senate (using his high office to gratify private or local prejudice and then claiming "privilege" forsooth for his conduct) can weaken the force of these actual certified returns from our millers and warehouse men here in my hands. Let who will venture to discredit these figures at [illegible] he will have to do with a righteous indignation which will not be easily allayed.

I am thankful that our defense is thus made easy for us by those whose battle we are fighting while defending our own enterprise.

But I pass on to your correspondent's assertion that the "bulk of the lands" acquired by the Oregon Pacific represents a mountainous and mostly unsurveyed wilderness not susceptible of cultivation." What words can I use here but those forbidden parliamentary usage? Truly the impudence of this assertion is as startling as it is extravagant. Either "Examiner" is totally ignorant of eastern Oregon, in which case he should have remained silent, or he knows only too well his subject and supposes that a lie well told is better than silence. For in addition to the full reports which are now in New York and [illegible] to satisfy some of the most cautious and clever men in that or any other city in making the statements about those lands that appear in the prospectus, there are before me now the copies of three statements recently [illegible] me. One is from the surveyor who laid out this road fifteen years ago; the second from a gentleman who traveled along the whole road when it was completed and certified its completion and received it for and on behalf of the [illegible] governor of the state and [illegible] is now one of the state senators for Linn county; and the third is from an equally well known citizen of Linn county who has just returned from a journey of 340 miles along the road and who is thoroughly familiar with the country. None of these gentlemen are interested in a pecuniary sense in the road or the railroad, or have received or will receive a single cent for their reports. What they say is this:

The road starts from the city of Albany and follows a generally eastern course. For the first thirty five miles or thereabouts it passes through the Willamette valley to the foot hills of the Cascade mountains, crossing a rich farming country too well known for it to be necessary for me to describe it here. The foot hills of the Cascades and the greater portion of the pass crossed by the road which is known as the Santiam pass, and which at its highest point is about 3400 feet above sea level, are crowned with fir timber of large growth and great value. The little valleys situated among the hills have a very rich soil and are generally settled up. The grades of the road crossing the Cascade range are by no means difficult, although the road was a costly one to construct. After crossing the mountains going east some lava plains are passed but do not exceed 25 miles in width. Shortly afterwards the road enters and follows for many miles in succession the valleys formed by the headwaters of the Des Chutes river, including Beaver creek and Silver creek valleys. This last is about 15 miles long and varies in width from one to three miles and upwards. After passing over and round several of the extreme foothills of the Blue mountains, Harney lake valley is reached, which is about 60 miles long by about 20 in width. The road traverses this valley throughout.

Where the road passes through the valleys I have mentioned the soil is very rich and fertile like other valley bottoms in Oregon and is adapted to the growth of the cereals, grasses and vegetables. The hills on either side of the road are gradual and rounded in character with level and gently rolling plateaus. They are covered with bunch grass and in part with large sage brush and possess the same character of soil which in other parts of eastern and northeastern Oregon are found to be thoroughly suitable for wheat and produce abundant crops. There is no reason to doubt that the construction of a railway through this country will be followed by its development for agricultural purposes along and within reach of the road, and I believe that the railroad development is all that is needed to cause an increase of value in these lands equal to that which has been found in the Walla Walla country and in northeastern Oregon, where wheat growing has replaced the use of the lands for cattle herding.

So far all three agree; the state senator goes on: Beyond the point where [illegible] (the survey [illegible] superintendence ceased) and for the 68½ miles along the Malheur valley to the eastern boundary on Snake river, the land improves in quality. The natural grasses and vegetable growth generally along this tract of country are abundant and [illegible] showing remarkable fertility of soil.

And now a few words from statement No. 3: [illegible] country has been much settled up since I last saw it. In Silver Creek valley we found 13 families settled and we passed five more on the road to take up their residence there. The country east of the Cascades is at present almost exclusively used for pastoral purposes and the cattle owners whose herds range the country are not at all anxious to see settlers enter the country for agriculture. But the productiveness of the land is demonstrated by the results gained by Mr Thos Mopps[illegible] in Grindstone Creek valley, where we saw 600 bushels of [illegible] which were raised on nine acres. [illegible] and 150 bushels of splendid potatoes raised on less than two thirds of an acre. Several of the potatoes weighed two pounds and upwards. I doubt not that Harney lake valley will equal in productiveness the Walla Walla valley.

So much for the "mountainous wilderness not susceptible of cultivation."

And now lastly for his big figures. T[illegible] that this writer [illegible] having already shown [illegible] [illegible] through that [illegible] the lands of the state of Oregon [illegible] [illegible] improvement of the entrance [illegible] of the [illegible] Willamette valley [illegible] [illegible] when nearly all the [illegible] of the state [illegible] the OREGONIAN [illegible] [illegible] petitioned [illegible] $60,000 [illegible] [illegible] the breaking out again of the [illegible] [illegible] that Yaquina [illegible] is the only central [illegible] that it is an adequate and available harbor and that its entrance may be [illegible] to render it [illegible] suitable to European grain ships as well as [illegible] [illegible] to San Francisco.

[illegible] first [illegible] and [illegible] I think to [illegible] mind [illegible] Mr Partington trying to [illegible] the Atlantic out of her cottage with a mop.

Pray do not think, sir, that each and all of these criticisms are not as easily answerable, but I spare your readers, so I forbear further exposure of these sophistries. But if room can be afforded I am perfectly ready to answer each observation in turn. Let me though point out that your readers will recognize, though "Examiner" forgets, that most borrowers get loans either to improve or to help pay for the property they have bought—not after they have bought, paid for and built, and that railroad companies are no exception to this rule. Therefore that it is of no avail to try to throw dust in the eyes of the public by finding fault with the Oregon Pacific for borrowing money on bonds wherewith to build its road and help pay for its land. And let me tell him moreover that when people of average intelligence propose to invest money in a new undertaking they look to the respectability of the persons who introduced the security, then to its intrinsic value and then to its prospects of development and improvement, and being satisfied on these points are not likely to be deterred by what some one has called "the irresponsible ebullition of anonymous enmity." Yours respectfully,

WALLIS NASH.

Wheat Grown in Willamette Valley

ALBANY, Oregon, Nov 6, 1880.

Wallis Nash, Esq, Corvallis:—During the agitation of the question of the location of the proposed harbor of refuge on the Oregon coast a portion of the undersigned with other citizens of Linn county, collected some statistics touching the amount of wheat raised in the Willamette valley in the counties of Linn, Lane, Benton, Marion, Polk, Yamhill and Washington, and ventured the statement that the amount of grain produced annually for export was at least six millions of bushels in those counties.

This estimate having been called in question by certain interested parties we have been led to a re-examination of the matter. Our estimates are based upon the actual yield this season so far as we have been able to obtain the exact figures and upon reasonable and moderate estimates as to the residue.

Benton county, totals	680,000
Marion county	1,297,000
Washington county	204,900
Polk county (estimated)	750,000
Lane county	500,000
Linn county	1,517,400
	5,017,900
Add 15 per cent for small warehouses and grain still in farmers hands	752,685
Total	5,770,585

We have no precise estimates from Yamhill county for this year and have not included it in the above calculations but we remember distinctly that Hon M. P. Deady, then and now the able United States district judge for Oregon, and at this time and for several years past the president of the board of regents of the University of Oregon, printed in one of the leading newspapers of the state one or more articles, the main purpose of which was to prove that the arable land and grain yield in Yamhill county was equal to that of Linn. If this be so we have a grand total of 7,289,185 bushels. But assuming this estimate to be too large, we have no hesitancy in saying that the yield in Yamhill will be equal to half of Lane county, and we have a total of 6,520,58[illegible]. And it must be remembered that this is approximately what these counties now yield, not what they will yield as soon as increased and cheaper facilities for transportation shall have reduced to cultivation large tracts of land in this valley now lying idle and as yet unfenced. But the time is rapidly approaching when all these lands must be cultivated, and must add vastly to our annual productions. What that amount will be, we have no means of estimating at this time, but it must be very large. We may be permitted to add that the farmers and producers of this valley and of eastern Oregon as well regard with peculiar favor and interest the proposed Oregon Pacific railroad with which your name and that of Col Hogg have been connected. When completed that road will furnish a cheaper and quicker line of transportation to market for the productions of this valley, than either of the present roads, or the Willamette river, or all combined.

The foregoing estimates include wheat only. Barley, oats and flax, large quantities of which are also produced, are omitted, because we are unable to furnish an approximately correct estimate. We are with great respect, yours most truly,

CALIFORNIA.

Canvass Completed.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—The canvass of the city vote by the board of election commissioners was completed this morning but the footings are not yet made.

San Francisco Official

The official canvass shows the total vote of the city to be [illegible] 29[illegible]. The democratic electors have 2413 plurality over the republicans except Judge Terry who runs 315 behind. Rosecrans beats Davis 1600 votes. Republicans elect all four assemblymen in [illegible] and [illegible] in the 9th districts. Democrats elect other 1[illegible]. A contest is likely between Coffey dem and Ed[illegible] munds rep for the superior judgeship, the latter having a majority of only two votes, and Coffey claiming some votes that were thrown out would have elected him.

A Fraud Claimed in California.

The Post this evening says: The republicans of this city and state are by no means satisfied that the record should be made in favor of Hancock for president. Rosecrans for congress. They believe that there were fraudulent votes and wrongful counts in this city sufficient to insure at least the election of Garfield if the errors in San Francisco can be corrected. It is therefore altogether likely that a recount will be demanded of the votes in the city and it may be extended to the entire state. The majority in the state is so narrow that if the votes wrongfully cast for Hancock in this city can be canceled there seems no doubt of the election of the entire body of Garfield electors.

Pecuniary Independence.

[Th. Coan in Harper's for November.]

We have much to learn from the French and among the things that we have to learn are some that may surprise us. One of these things is the comfort, the unity and the permanence of French homes. The French home and family, their happiness, their unity, their permanence, these have been developed by the combined industry, thrift and domestic sentiment of the most intelligent people in Europe and especially by its great middle class. We have the significant testimony of Prince [illegible] [illegible] that the French nation has a social [illegible] such as no other nation in Europe enjoys. And Matthew Arnold, from whose [illegible] I quote, adds: "This can only [illegible] the broad basis of well being and [illegible] of satisfaction of life which in France [illegible] than in any other countries exists." If we [illegible] people [illegible] who [illegible] a competence [illegible] [illegible] should be a happier people and a better one than we are now? [illegible] the United States have this important feature in common in each country [illegible] people [illegible] by agriculture [illegible] attained [illegible] comfort on the permanence of theirs.

A MODEL FUNERAL ORATION.

A Feeling Tribute from Mark Twain.

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—A Tribune special from Hartford, Conn, gives Mark Twain's funeral oration over the democratic party to an overflowing audience. Coming as it did immediately after the addresses by two clergymen the audience did not at first comprehend its humor. The following is the address:

There are occasions which are so solemn, so weighted with the deep concerns of life that every licensed jester must lay aside his cap and bells and remember that he is a man and a mortal, that even his light butterfly career of folly has its serious seasons and he cannot flee them or ignore them. Such a time, my friends, is this, for we are in the near presence of one who is a passenger from this life, one whom we have known long and well, but shall know no more forever. About the couch of him who was stricken are gathered those who hold him dear and who await on the coming of a great sorrow. The breathing is faint and grows fainter. His voice becomes a whisper. I cannot record the languishing ebb and flow of the remnant of his life. His lips are pallid, and the froth of devastation gathers upon them. His face is drawn, his cheeks are sunken, his form is still, his feet are ice, his eye is vacant, he picks at the coverlet, he babbles about the green fields, the death rattle is in his throat, his time is at hand. Every breeze that comes to us out of the distance, near and far, and from every segment of the wide horizon is heavy with voices of mourning and sorrow accomplished, and the burden of the mourning is that the aged and stricken democratic party is dying and the burden of the lament will be "The mighty is fallen, the democratic party is dead!" Who and what is he that is soon to be dead? A footsore, political wanderer, a political tramp, an itinerant poor actor, familiar with many disguises, a butcher of many parts. In the north he played "Protection and Hard Money," in the west he played "Protection," "Free Trade," "Hard Money" and "Soft Money," changing the parts according to the exigencies of the times. In the south he played "Tariff for Revenue," in the north and west, "The Apostle of Freedom," in the south, "The Assassin of Freedom," and mouthed the sacred shibboleths of liberty with cruel and bloody lips. His last and final appearance upon the nation's stage was "Forgery," a farce in which he was assisted by the whole strength of the company. It was a poor piece indifferently played, and so it failed, and he was hissed and abused, but the jeers and blame and praise are alike to him. The charitable will spare the one, the judicious will reserve the other. Friends, this is no time for jest and levity, but a time for bended forms and uncovered heads, for all stand in the presence of majestic death, a momentous and memorable death, a grisly and awful death, for it is death from which there is no resurrection. Heaven bless us, one and all! Heaven temper the blow to the afflicted family. Heaven grant them a change of heart and a better life!

A TRIBUTE TO GARFIELD.

President Hayes Utters a Glowing Eulogy upon the President Elect.

CLEVELAND, Nov 4.—President Hayes, at the great republican demonstration here to-night, said: We are able to rejoice in the fact demonstrated by this election that no amount of calumny or personal attack upon a presidential candidate of really high character affects him in the least in the judgment of good people. As citizens of Cleveland, of the Western Reserve of Ohio and neighbors of General Garfield we rejoice as his friends in his great personal success. We rejoice because we know that he is worthy of the success he has achieved. How many and how great are the laurels that now encircle his brow. He stands to-day the representative of the nineteenth congressional district in his ninth term his eighteenth year as representative of that district, a community not surpassed in intelligence and patriotism anywhere on earth. He is their representative to-day, sustained by them through all these years, elected again and again nine times in spite of opposition and calumny. More than that, he is to-day senator elect for a six years term, a position that sought him unsought by him, unbought, receiving it spontaneously and without effort. He is a senator from Ohio and now president elect. In all our history no such combination of high honors has rested upon the head of any man, and we rejoice as I said to know that he is worthy of these honors. Looking through the history of our public men we find that he is the model self-made man.

SOUTHERN DISGUST.

Signs of a Break Away from the Blundering Northern Bourbons.

CHICAGO, Nov 6.—The Washington correspondent of the Times finds the southern leaders anxious to make terms with the incoming administration and declares the republicans can certainly find enough allies among independent democrats from the south to organize the house. Such men as Gordon, Wade Hampton, Lamar and M C Butler have repeatedly within the last year expressed opinions to the effect that the south ought to be able to make terms with the republican party and cease to trail along at the heels of the northern Bourbons who with a genius for blundering have led them on from one political ditch to another. The southerners would have broken with the northern democrats long ago had they been certain that public sentiment in the south would have sustained them. I was frequently impressed opinions of these southern gentlemen last winter, but made the Grant senators so anxious to secure the nomination of Grant at Chicago. They had practically in advance the positive assurance from responsible southern men that upon such a man as Grant the south would make a break. I was also told here repeatedly before the adjournment of congress, by certain southern members, that if the democratic party failed this time it would practically end the southern allegiance to that organization. Their prediction is now confirmed from every side.

The Southern People Disposed to Seek New Issues

CHICAGO, Nov 6.—A correspondent who is now traveling through the south telegraphs from New Orleans that the election passes off with an unusual quiet feeling among the masses of the people. The result in New Orleans and the adjacent rural districts is one of partial disgust rather than disappointment. The outcome of the October elections trained their minds to anticipate a national defeat on Tuesday. There is general sympathy for Hancock and thousands who fought against him and who admire him as a soldier and a man deeply regret that he has been exposed to the humiliation of defeat by his faithful allegiance to what are termed democratic principles. The election of Garfield, it is admitted, has virtually disbanded the democracy south as well as north, at least on a national basis. New York was unexpectedly made the stone that closes the mouth of the democratic sepulchre. Congressman Acklin and other leading democrats acknowledge that the defeat of the party with such a ticket is an irreparable disaster and under the democratic flag the last presidential battle on American soil has been fought and lost. At the same time they believe that Garfield will be the last republican president and that four years from now the American people will accord the palm of victory to a new and vigorous party that will sink the old issues and accept in good faith the verdict of the nation as delivered on Tuesday against political superstitions which the result of the war ought to have wiped out but did not up to the day of the election. The free trade plank in the national democratic platform caused a great many sugar planters and manufacturers to refrain from voting. They would not endorse the [illegible] and could not bring themselves to vote the republican ticket. The majority of the people undoubtedly accept the defeat as final and think they might have fallen into worse hands than those of Garfield, who they suppose will not interfere with the domestic government of their respective states. The leaders say that he has a chance to make himself very popular if he [illegible] clear of radical influence in the whole country from a national [illegible] and from that alone. Taking it all [illegible] feeling in Louisiana is mainly and is [illegible] The people are willing, judging [illegible] to be friendly toward the executive if that gentleman deal with the [illegible] rebels not as loyal citizens. In [illegible] south is now as it has been [illegible] the land of great expectations.

Tired of being Sold Out.

WASHINGTON, Nov 6.—There is a strong conviction among politicians of both sides that the defeat of Hancock means a break up of the solid south. One of the most popular and prominent southern democrats now in the city says: "If I had my way I would have cast the 138 votes of the south for Garfield and have made the thing unanimous. Our alliance with the northern democrats gives them all the pence, we take all the kicks. We have done all we promised, politically, but our northern party associates have sold us out or betrayed us. The northern democrats always consult their interests and I am in favor now of the south consulting hers." This feeling seems to be general. They say the northern democrats give the south nothing. When they ask, the answer is, "For God's sake don't, you'll ruin us." It is believed the solid south will no longer cast all the voting but will split.

And He Played them in Oregon, Too

CHICAGO, Nov 5.—An Inter-Ocean Washington special says: There was a lively time on the street in this city to-day near the court-house when the bets on New York were settled. A large amount of money passed from the hands of the district democrats, many of them having put up as long as they could raise a dollar. To-day the stakes were paid over, and there was needless profanity in that quarter, mainly directed at John Kelly, the New York democratic reformer. At 8 o'clock on the night of the election he sent a dispatch which was displayed at the Post building, saying that New York city was carried for Hancock by 60 000 majority, and the state by 25 000—signed John Kelly. On the strength of this those democrats who had lost on Indiana put up large sums on New York which are now swept into the pockets of the republicans.

The "Herald's" Sarcasm on the Fraud Cry

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—The New York Herald says: Kelly's claim of fraudulent voting in New York is preposterous. No vote could have been cast in this city which was not registered, and the registry lists were open to inspection and challenge. Kelly's foolish colonization fiction is too supremely ridiculous to deceive anybody who does not wish to be deceived. As if colonization could account for the pitiful vote by which Grace barely escaped defeat in a city where the normal democratic majority is between 60 000 and 70 000.

A Southern Shout for Free Trade

[From the Vicksburg Herald, Dem.]

We say, hurrah for low tariff, and if need be for out and out free trade. We are weary of receiving blows and giving none, and if Hancock is defeated our opportunity will present itself. Mr Lamar will make splendid free trade speeches next year. So will Hampton and Hooker and Garland, and so will all leading southerners except those in Louisiana, and so will many good republicans in the west.

NEW ENGLAND OPINION

The Victory and its Consequences.

BOSTON, Nov 4.—The Advertiser says: The country has been saved from a great peril. We say it now after the danger is past as we said while the contest was before us, that the election of a democratic president at the present juncture would have been an unspeakable calamity. Hancock is nothing—we can even pity the gallant soldier who has permitted himself to drop into bad company and who has, perforce, been championed by bad men in bad ways. The party behind him has always been dangerous. It was the solid south seeking to control by ballots where bullets had failed. It was currency nonsense aiming at the destruction of the public credit, the violation of the public faith, the ruin of our sound currency system. It was the reckless agitation for such modifications of the tariff as would have involved the overthrow of all manufacturing interests built up with sedulous care by judicious protection. It was an unscrupulous opposition to every safeguard of free and fair elections. It was the complete lack of principle in everything that makes a party worthy to live. This it is which the people have condemned. This it is from which they have saved themselves. The election of General Garfield means the restoration of peace. It means the awakening of the south to the sense of its folly in trusting to a party which cannot save it so long as it persists in maintaining its past and present attitude. It means the maintenance of the financial party that has brought back prosperity to the country. This is a day of rejoicing over a great escape and a great and positive blessing. We fancy the republicans are not alone in thinking so. We know that the south should be thankful to have its eyes opened. An era of prosperity and good feeling will now set in, and woe be to the man or party responsible for putting an end to it.

THE REAL OBJECTION.

Some time since the committee on education and labor of the house of representatives presented a report on the Chinese question, which, if properly considered in the eastern states, would do much toward forming a correct public opinion on the subject there. The committee, while avoiding the too common mistake of denying the Chinaman any good attributes, was keen enough to discover and emphasize the only just ground of opposition to that kind of immigration. [illegible] cting up [illegible] ents of [illegible] sent the [illegible] human [illegible] all to make [illegible] their [illegible] together [illegible] production of benefit to the Pacific coast, they have [illegible] handle to [illegible] who take the [illegible] have justified comparisons [illegible] means always [illegible] most favorable attitude. [illegible] on is fairly discussed it must be [illegible] that the Chinaman is an [illegible] machine; that he is frugal, temperate, [illegible] docile, and in many respects [illegible]. Take him on these points, [illegible] reference to other considerations, and [illegible] favorably with any [illegible] labor in the world. But the fatal objection [illegible] He begins [illegible] Chinaman he ends. Useful [illegible] many purposes, yet so far as the experience of a quarter of a century [illegible] the making [illegible] He [illegible] is a very different thing from an alien nationality, while its difference is emphasized by the fact that the race to which he belongs, or by far the largest portion of it, has been moulded for thousands of years in habits and customs and ideas of civilization and government altogether at variance with those of the European people from whom we derive our own. It is this consideration, and this alone, that justifies the attitude of the Pacific coast on the Chinese question. The opposition to the Chinese on the sole ground that they work for a small wage never could be seriously maintained; or that is a thing which, if he were not a Chinaman, would [illegible]. As a fact, however, Chinese who can do good work in domestic employments do not work for small wages. They must have high pay, and they are employed solely because skillful white labor can not be obtained. One may concede that the Chinese, for the reasons above stated, are not a desirable class of population, and yet one wants his meals decently prepared and his linen decently washed. Chinese who are good domestic servants get more pay here to-day than good white servants get in the older states. If there were an immigration of foreigners, capable of assimilation, who were willing to work for as low wages as the Chinese receive for rough and unskilled labor, there would be no rational ground for opposition to the new comers, since the desires of the new element would grow with their experience, and they would soon be no longer content with insufficient wages. They would become naturalized, adopt American customs and institutions, and be absorbed into the nation, there to act upon or to be reacted upon by the majority. The Chinaman is, in short, a stranger and sojourner in our midst, and possesses nothing in common with us. This it is that makes him undesirable. It is no justification for abusing him, but it is a reason why we should refrain from encouraging the immigration of such an element. The Chinaman is not a chattel it is true, but in some respects he answers the purposes of a chattel, and the social growth and development which is produced through his agency is little different from that which was fostered by southern slavery. The tendency in both cases must be to destroy the element of white American labor, to concentrate power, wealth and political influence in the hands of a minority, and to weaken the democratic spirit. The report of the house committee to which we have referred above shows a comprehensive grasp of these facts, and if well studied in the eastern states, it would be convincing. But as we have so often said heretofore, the true remedy lies with our own working classes. If they were as well fitted as they ought to be for the employments they seek, the Chinese would soon be deprived of the hold they have in many lines of employment, and would be gradually forced out and down into the lowest and least desirable occupations. Since events have now brought this whole subject before the attention of the country more prominently than ever before, it is not unlikely that the discussion will open new views of it to all classes of our people, and in all parts of the country.

SUGAR FROM BEETS.

The beet sugar question has at various times attracted a good deal of attention on this coast. Production of sugar from beets has been actually tried with us only in California, though excellent results have been obtained from beets grown in Washington territory and sent to California for treatment. Dr. Atkinson's recent communication from San Francisco on the manufacture of beet sugar in California has no doubt been read by all here who take an interest in the subject. The sample of sugar sent with his communication is perfectly clear and pure. He thinks our lands would produce the sugar beet in great abundance and of excellent quality.

As yet, however, the experiment of making beet sugar in California has not reached highest success. The works started at Sacramento failed entirely. Those at Alvarado have never yet been really profitable. It may be that the management has not been economical and scientific, or that the beets are not of as good quality as those grown in parts of Europe, where the industry is carried on with highest success.

In France, Germany and Austria production of beet sugar is among the foremost of great industries. In Austria alone two million acres of land are annually cultivated in beets by the sugar manufacturers themselves, and fully as many more by farmers who sell their beets to the sugar works. One hundred and twenty thousand workmen are permanently employed in the sugar factories; a large number of them skilled mechanics. The value of land was, 25 years ago, from 70 to 80 florins per acre; now it is from 300 to 350 florins. The sugar factories fatten annually 70,000 oxen on the pulp from the beets, and transport over the railroads annually from 3,500,000 to 4,000,000 tons of freight, including 1,900,000 tons of coal which they consume.

It is possible, as Dr. Atkinson suggests, that here in the Pacific northwest the sugar beet will at a future day be a crop of more annual value than wheat. But development of this industry, should it come at all, will be very slow in coming; for it requires large capital and peculiar skill. There are many other lines of manufacturing industry which are likely to be far ahead of it in point of time.

The vote of Umatilla county shows an almost astonishing increase. Last June it was 985 republican and 1128 democratic. It is now 1250 republican and 1535 democratic. In June the total vote of the county was 3113. In November it was 2785. In the last presidential election it was 486 republican and 742 democratic; total, 1228. Official returns from Wasco are not yet in, but probably that county shows an equal increase.

Roach, the Philadelphia shipbuilder, has succeeded in obtaining the promise of a $100,000 subsidy from the Buenos Ayres government for his line of steamers between that country and New York.

CONSPIRACY AND DIABOLISM.

If there are members of the political party that suffered defeat in the late election who really think there is still a chance that a result may be reached different from that indicated by the count as already announced, such persons would do well to remember before they set their hearts too deeply on this project, that the country will stand no fooling. The election will neither be attacked nor tampered with. If they suppose for a moment that any attempt to reverse it will be tolerated, they never were more miserably mistaken in their lives. No pretense of fraud will be permitted to cover so villainous a conspiracy. In all the northern states the elections have been absolutely fair. In all of them the republicans have made enormous gains and have won by overwhelming majorities. They have won this fight in spite of every rascality, and the vote shows that the country is with them. There is no more reason for questioning the vote of New York than for questioning that of Ohio or Illinois. Desperate scoundrels may attempt to dispute an election on flimsy grounds, as for instance that tickets were not printed with type of certain description, or that a dash rule was inserted or left out; but the people know what they intended, and they are going to stand by it. This election will stand, or there never will be another. But it will stand. And when the time for final action comes, there will be none who will put their necks into a halter by daring to question it. It is indeed an edifying moral spectacle to see the party whose sole hope was based on stolen electoral votes in the south talking about frauds in the north! Should there be any serious attempt to dispute this election the wrath that burst forth as a consuming fire against secession and rebellion would be tame in comparison. It is not only this election that the people are determined to maintain, but they are determined also to uphold American institutions, which could not survive a successful conspiracy against a popular verdict so clear and decisive. Bulldozing may control the south, but cheating will not control the north, and scoundrel politicians might as well make a note of it. However, this is but of a piece with the efforts of democratic managers during the last three weeks of their campaign, and like those efforts it will end in noise and wind. But they show the cloven foot of party diabolism, and are well calculated to make the country thankful that the party capable of such things did not carry the election.

BARNUM'S BASENESS.

New facts concerning Barnum's baseness are coming out in the Philp examination. Just before the election Barnum telegraphed all over the country what purported to be an affidavit by Mrs. Clara L. Morey, of Lynn, Mass., to the effect that Henry L. Morey was her son. The statement was made to bolster up the genuineness of the Chinese letter. But Mrs. Morey now goes on the stand and swears that she never had a son named Henry L., and never made affidavit to that effect. And she also swears that there never was any Henry L. Morey in the family nor in any branch thereof to her knowledge. It is now established by undoubted testimony that the Henry L. Morey to whom the forged letter was pretendedly addressed never existed. When a great party stakes its all on such miserable expedients of infamy, no wonder ruin overtakes it.

But the business is not yet ended. All the Morey family testify that there never was any Henry L. Morey. Samuel G. Morey, who a couple of days before the election swore to the existence of the said mythical Henry L., in order to accommodate Barnum and get a fee, is in the Tombs for perjury. Also one Lindsay, alias Barry, alias O'Brien, who gave similar testimony, is in the lock-up with small chance of getting out. These estimable gentlemen were told that the matter would be dropped after the election. They find themselves mistaken. One Clarke was the agent who dealt with them. He doubtless stands close to Barnum. Seeing the troubles that great men get into by making themselves too conspicuous, he is now modestly keeping in concealment. This forgery may never be fastened on its real author but the perjuries growing out of it will not be got rid of so easily.

The speculations received by telegraph as to what would follow in case of Senator Grover's death, have no value for present purposes, nor would they have should his death occur. For the regular biennial session of our legislature is just ended, and there will not be another session for two years. For it would hardly be sound to assume that a democratic governor would call a republican legislature together to elect a republican senator, when he had in his own hands the power of appointment. But then Senator Grover isn't dead yet; and in politics as in other concerns, there is no joke in waiting for dead men's shoes.

Cynicism gets at truth by mere bitterness of exaggeration. Thus, the New York Times, in an article on the last supreme effort of the democratic managers in the late contest, said: "There is no argument so useful as a well-maintained forgery. Truth is all very well, and in isolated cases—not connected with politics or religion—it occasionally has some influence, but one good forgery is worth a dozen statements of fact or honest arguments."

General Hancock takes no stock in the new "fraud" cry. He is of opinion that Gen. Garfield is elected, and there's an end of it. So nobody will catch him playing Perkin Warbeck to the wishes of a lot of tag-rag partisan desperadoes. General Hancock has not always been wise or he would not have been a democratic candidate for the presidency, but he has always had more sense than his party.

The British yesterday shipped two million dollars in gold to America, and Secretary Sherman, who had advertised for bonds in New York, could not buy any. These are facts which show that financial people have neither confidence in nor fear of the democratic party.

Sir Henery Bessemer has taken out no less than 114 patents. The freedom of the city of London has just been conferred on him. Before his steel process was introduced into Sheffield the entire make of steel there was 51,000 tons a year. Now it is 890,000 tons.

The vote for Judge Terry in San Francisco was 21,222, while the lowest vote for any one of his associates on the electoral ticket was 21,411. Judge Terry fell behind the average vote of his ticket in the city just 200. In the whole state he is behind over 500.

"Memento Morey," doesn't mean "Be mindful of death." It is suggestive of forgery, perjury and the work of a democratic national committee.

The south will furnish the paws to pull nobody's chestnuts out of the fire any more. It will have no more monkey shows.

In that forged Chinese letter Barnum evidently got the wrong queue.

PATRONIZE

HOME INDUSTRIES!

PIONEER

White Lead

REASONS WHY IT SHOULD BE PREFERRED TO ALL OTHERS:

First—It is STRICTLY PURE. It is WHITER, is FINER GROUND, is FRESH, has BETTER COVERING POWER, is MORE DURABLE and is LOWER PRICED than any foreign or imported brands.

The IMPORTED LEADS are OLD, are DRY and HARD, COVERED WITH SKINS, The OIL IS SOAKED INTO THE [illegible], and a very LARGE QUANTITY [illegible], which is HIGHER COST than the Lead, MUST BE ADDED to make them fit for use, and thus making it cost, at even market prices, at least [illegible] per cent. more than the PIONEER.

Second—The PIONEER LEAD is strictly a HOME MANUFACTURE. EVERY DOLLAR SPENT IN ITS MANUFACTURE IS DISTRIBUTED ON THIS COAST to the MINERS, SMELTERS and REFINERS, MECHANICS, FARMERS AND LABORERS.

The LEAD ORE is mined on this coast.

The PIG LEAD is smelted and refined on this coast.

The POTS, MACHINERY and other appliances are made on this coast.

The MECHANICS and LABORERS are our own population.

The SEED from which the OIL is extracted is GROWN on this coast.

The OIL is MANUFACTURED on this coast by the PACIFIC OIL WORKS, and of a quality superior to any made elsewhere. GUARANTEED PURE and FREE from ADULTERATION with cotton seed, mustard seed and Fish Oil, SO COMMON WITH ALL THE [illegible] OILS IMPORTED.

The manufacture of the PIONEER WHITE LEAD EMPLOYS constantly [illegible] HUNDRED MEN.

The manufacture of the Oil by the PACIFIC OIL WORKS EMPLOYS constantly FIFTY MEN.

THE MINING, MELTING, REFINING, FOUNDRIES, [illegible] IRON WORKS, POTTERIES, [illegible] and other dependencies, EMPLOY, in addition, an ARMY OF MEN, all CONSUMERS, contributing to each other's welfare.

The FOREIGN or IMPORTED LEAD of Lead and Oil [illegible] CONTRIBUTE NOTHING to the WELFARE or PROSPERITY of THIS COMMUNITY; on the contrary, the PATRONAGE OF THEM results in the RETIRE[illegible] from the State of YOUR CAPITAL and DEPRIVES THE MANY classes aforementioned of SUPPORT.

Every dollar spent for HOME MANUFACTURES, and one so essentially a home manufacture as the PIONEER WHITE LEAD, ADDS to the DEVELOPMENT and WEALTH of the COAST, and is a PUBLIC GOOD.

THE REAL OBJECTION

[illegible] tee while avoiding the too common mistake [illegible] denying the Chinese any good attributes [illegible] keen enough to discover a [illegible] only just ground of opposition to that kind of [illegible]. When the unreflecting [illegible] of the Chinese have undertaken to represent [illegible] as a set of monsters destitute of all human excellences and have further attempted to make it appear that their labor has been [illegible] of benefit to the Pacific coast they have merely given a handle to those who take the other side and [illegible] arguments which have been [illegible] put when labor in the last and [illegible] whenever the question [illegible] must be freely admitted [illegible] is an excellent labor machine [illegible] frugal temperate, industrious [illegible] many respects trustworthy. [illegible] these points without reference to [illegible] orations and he will compare favorably with any class of labor in the world. But the fatal objection to him is in the trite though always true statement, that he does not assimilate. He begins as a Chinaman, and as a Chinaman he ends. Useful as he is for so many purposes, yet so far as the experience of a quarter of a century enables us to judge, he has not the making of American citizenship about him. He belongs to an alien race, and this is a very different thing from an alien nationality, [illegible] its difference is emphasized by the fact that the race to which he belongs, or by far the largest portion of it, has been moulded for thousands of years in habits and customs and ideas of civilization and government altogether at variance with those of the European people from whom we derive our own. It is this consideration and this alone that justifies the attitude of the Pacific coast on the Chinese question. The opposition to the Chinese on the sole ground that they work for a small wage never could be seriously maintained, for that is a thing which if he were not a Chinaman, would correct itself. As a fact however, Chinese who can do good work in domestic employments do not work for small wages. They must have high pay and they are employed solely because skillful white labor can not be obtained. One may concede that the Chinese, for the reasons above stated are not a desirable class of population and yet one wants his meals decently prepared and his linen decently washed. Chinese who are good domestic servants get more pay here today than good white servants get in the older states. If there were an immigration of foreigners capable of assimilation who were willing to work for as low wages as the Chinese receive for rough and unskilled labor there would be no rational ground for opposition to the new comers, since the desires of the new element would grow with their experience and they would soon be no longer content with insufficient wages. They would become naturalized, adopt American customs and institutions, and be absorbed into the nation there to act upon or to be reacted upon by the majority. The Chinaman is in short, a stranger and sojourner in our midst and possesses nothing in common with us. This it is that makes him undesirable. It is no justification for abusing him but it is a reason why we should refrain from encouraging the immigration of such an element. The Chinaman is not a chattel it is true but in some respects he answers the purposes of a chattel and the social growth and development which is produced through his agency is little different from that which was fostered by southern slavery. The tendency in both cases must be to destroy the element of white American labor, to concentrate power wealth and political influence in the hands of a minority, and to weaken the democratic spirit. The report of the house committee to which we have referred above shows a comprehensive grasp of these facts and if well studied in the eastern states it would be convincing. But as we have so often said heretofore the true remedy lies with our own working classes. If they were as well fitted as they ought to be for the employments they seek the Chinese would soon be deprived of the hold they have in many lines of employment, and would be gradually forced out and down into the lowest and least desirable occupations. Since events have now brought this whole subject before the attention of the country more prominently than ever before it is not unlikely that the discussion will open new views of it to all classes of our people and in all parts of the country.

SUGAR FROM BEETS.

The beet sugar question has at various times attracted a good deal of attention on this coast. Production of sugar from beets has been actually tried with us only in California though excellent results have been obtained from beets grown in Washington territory and sent to California for treatment. Dr Atkinson's recent communication from San Francisco on the manufacture of beet sugar in California has no doubt been read by all here who take an interest in the subject. The sample of sugar sent with his communication is perfectly clear and pure. He thinks our lands would produce the sugar beet in great abundance and of excellent quality.

As yet, however, the experiment of making beet sugar in California has not reached highest success. The works started at Sacramento failed entirely. Those at Alvarado have never yet been really profitable. It may be that the management has not been economical and scientific or that the beets are not of as good quality as those grown in parts of Europe where the industry is carried on with highest success.

In France Germany and Austria production of beet sugar is among the foremost of great industries. In Austria alone [illegible] million acres of land are annually cultivated in beets by the sugar manufacturers themselves and fully as many more by farmers who sell their beets to the sugar works. One hundred and twenty thousand workmen are permanently employed in the sugar factories [illegible] number of [illegible] skilled [illegible] The value of land [illegible] years ago from 70 to 80 florins per acre [illegible] now is from 300 to 350 florins [illegible] fatten annually 70 000 [illegible] annually from 3 000 000 to 4 000 000 [illegible]

[illegible]

CONSPIRACY AND DIABOLISM

[illegible] over so villainous a conspiracy. In all the [illegible] This day [illegible] country with them [illegible] question of the vote of New York the question [illegible] Democratic [illegible] What the [illegible] But it will [illegible] halt [illegible] question [illegible] edifying moral spectacle to see the party whose sole hope was based on stifling the elective vote in the south [illegible] not [illegible] to dispute this fact [illegible] forth as a champion [illegible] against [illegible] in comparison. It is not only this election that the people are determined to maintain but they are determined also to uphold American institutions which could not survive a [illegible] conspiracy against a popular verdict so clear and decisive. Bulldozing may control the south but cheating will not control the north and scoundrel politicians might as well make a note of it. However this is but of a piece with the efforts of democratic managers during the last three weeks of their campaign and like those efforts it will end in noise and wind. But they show the cloven foot of party diabolism and are well calculated to make the country thankful that the party capable of such things did not carry the election.

BARNUM'S BASENESS.

New facts concerning Barnum's baseness are coming out in the Philp examination. Just before the election Barnum telegraphed all over the country what purported to be an affidavit by Mrs Clara L. Morey of Lynn Mass to the effect that Henry L. Morey was her son. The statement was made to bolster up the genuineness of the Chinese letter. But Mrs Morey now goes on the stand and swears that she never had a son named Henry L. and never made affidavit to that effect. And she also swears that there never was any Henry L. Morey in the family nor in any branch thereof to her knowledge. It is now established by undoubted testimony that the Henry L. Morey to whom the forged letter was pretendedly addressed never existed. When a great party stakes its all on such miserable expedients of infamy no wonder ruin overtakes it.

But the business is not yet ended. All the Morey family testify that there never was an Henry L. Morey. Samuel C. Morey who a couple of days before the election swore to the existence of the said mythical Henry L. in order to accommodate Barnum and get a fee is in the Tombs for perjury. Also one Lindsay alias Barry, alias O'Brien who gave similar testimony is in the lock-up with small chance of getting out. These estimable gentlemen were told that the matter would be happy after the election. They find themselves mistaken. One Clarke was the agent who dealt with them. He [illegible] stands close to Barnum. Seeing the troubles that great men get into by making themselves too conspicuous, he is now modestly keeping in concealment. This forgery may never be fastened on its real author but the perjuries growing out of it will not be got rid of so easily.

The speculations received by telegraph as to what would follow in case of Senator Grover's death have no value for present purposes, nor would they have should his death occur. For the regular biennial session of our legislature is just ended, and there will not be another session for two years. For it would hardly be sound to assume that a democratic governor would call a republican legislature together to elect a republican senator, when he had in his own hands the power of appointment. But then Senator Grover isn't dead yet, and in politics as in other concerns, there is no joke in waiting for dead men's shoes.

Cynicism gets at truth by mere bitterness of exaggeration. Thus the New York Times in an article on the last supreme effort of the democratic managers in the late contest as [illegible] There is no argument so useful as a well maintained forgery. Truth is all very well and in isolated cases—not connected with politics or religion—it occasionally has some influence but one good forgery is worth a dozen statements of fact or honest arguments.

General Hancock takes no stock in the new fraud cry. He is of opinion that Garfield is elected and there's an end of it. So nobody will catch him playing Perkin Warbeck to the wishes of a lot of tag-rag partisan desperadoes. General Hancock has not always been wise or he would not have been a democratic candidate for the presidency but he has always had more sense than his party.

The British yesterday shipped two million dollars in gold to America and Secretary Sherman who had advertised for bonds in New York could not buy any. These are facts which show that financial people have neither confidence in nor fear of the democratic party.

Sir Henry Bessemer has taken out [illegible] than 114 patents. The freedom of the city of London has just been conferred on him. Before his steel process was introduced into Sheffield the entire make of steel there was 51 000 tons a year. Now it is 850 000 tons.

PIONEER

White Lead.

REASONS WHY IT SHOULD BE PREFERRED TO ALL OTHERS.

First—It is STRICTLY PURE. It is WHITER, is FINER GROUND, is FRESH, has BETTER COVERING POWER, is MORE DURABLE and is LOWER PRICED than any foreign or imported brands.

The IMPORTED LEADS are OLD, are DRY and HARD, COVERED WITH SKINS. The OIL IS SOAKED INTO THE WOOD, and a very LARGE QUANTITY OF OIL, which is HIGHER COST than the Lead, MUST BE ADDED to make them fit for use, and thus making it cost, at even market prices, at least 10 per cent. more than the PIONEER.

Second—The PIONEER LEAD is strictly a HOME MANUFACTURE. EVERY DOLLAR SPENT IN ITS MANUFACTURE IS DISTRIBUTED ON THIS COAST to the MINERS, SMELTERS and REFINERS, MECHANICS, FARMERS AND LABORERS.

The GALENA ORE is mined on this coast.

The PIG LEAD is smelted and refined on this coast.

The POTS, MACHINERY and other appliances are made on this coast.

The MECHANICS and LABORERS are our own population.

The SEED from which the OIL is extracted is GROWN on this coast.

The OIL is MANUFACTURED on this coast by the PACIFIC OIL WORKS, and of a quality superior to any made elsewhere. GUARANTEED TRUE and FREE from ADULTERATION with cotton seed, mustard seed and fish oil, SO COMMON with ALL THE EASTERN OILS IMPORTED.

The manufacture of the PIONEER WHITE LEAD EMPLOYS constantly ONE HUNDRED MEN.

The manufacture of the Oil by the PACIFIC OIL WORKS EMPLOYS constantly FIFTY MEN.

THE MINING, SMELTING, REFINING, FOUNDRY & MACHINE & IRON WORKS, POTTERIES, FARMERS and other dependencies, EMPLOY, in addition, an ARMY OF MEN, all CONSUMERS, contributing to each other's welfare.

The FOREIGN or IMPORTED BRANDS of Lead and Oil CONTRIBUTE NOTHING to the WELFARE or PROSPERITY of THIS COMMUNITY; on the contrary, the PATRONAGE OF THEM results in the RETIREMENT from the State of YOUR CAPITAL and DEPRIVES THE MANY classes aforementioned of SUPPORT.

Every dollar spent for HOME MANUFACTURES, and one so essentially a home manufacture as the PIONEER WHITE LEAD, ADDS to the DEVELOPMENT and WEALTH of the COAST, and is a PUBLIC GOOD.

CITY.

NATURAL SCIENCE ASSOCIATION.—At the monthly meeting of the Natural Science Association held recently in the rooms of the Y. M. C. A., Dr. F. B. [illegible] gave an interesting lecture on the subject of the perpetual motion and water fuel fallacies. The lecturer explained by the aid of diagrams a number of inventions which have been made from time to time for securing perpetual motion and showed, with reference to well known physical laws, the impossibility of its attainment. The invention of Dr. [illegible] Holland of Chicago, described in the Scientific American of July 24, for throwing a jet of superheated steam into a flame of naptha, whereby the steam is claimed to be decomposed and its hydrogen burned with the oxygen of the air, with the effect of increasing to a great degree the total heat of the flame, was considered at length and held to be, like all the perpetual motion projects, although [illegible] incidentally a certain amount of good [illegible] [illegible]. The lecture was followed by a discussion [illegible] upon the principles and merits of the new invention.

A GOOD OFFICIAL.—An instance of the watchfulness and honesty of Chief of Police Lappeus has just come to our knowledge and deserves mentioning. A few weeks ago a farmer living in Washington county came to this city and sold a fine team and wagon for $435. Late in the evening this information came to the chief, who, knowing that the man was in the habit of getting drunk when he came to town, instituted search for him. The man was found in a low saloon on Second street, in a drunken stupor and surrounded by half a dozen well known "crooks." Chief Lappeus led him to the city jail, and upon examination found $435 in gold, which was taken from him and locked in the office safe. He was then allowed to go. Next morning he was overjoyed when, calling at the police station, he received his money, which he supposed he had lost during the spree, and could not find words to express his praise of Chief [illegible].

TO PARTICIPATE FRIDAY EVENING.—At a meeting of the republicans of East Portland held at the office of Hatlock & Kirk last night, it was decided to participate in the ratification meeting to be held at the court house on Friday evening next, and to go in procession. A committee of arrangements, consisting of J. H. Hill, E. Martin and [illegible] Roberson, was appointed. A general turnout is expected. The meeting place will be at W. S. [illegible]'s. F. R. Neil was appointed marshal.

[illegible] SIGNS TO COME DOWN.—While nearly all [illegible] signs below second stories of buildings have been removed in compliance with the new ordinance, quite a number still remain above the street. Now that the campaign is over, and banners of political clubs are no longer needed, superintendent of streets, Wm. Braden, will this week notify all owners of signs which are suspended over streets to remove them without delay.

LADIES' FAIR AT VANCOUVER.—The Sisters of Charity of the House of Providence will give a fair at Metropolis Hall, Vancouver, on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings of next week. A worthier object than that for which this fair is given, viz., to assist the Sisters to feed, clothe and educate the eighty children under their charge, cannot be imagined, and their undertaking deserves to be well rewarded.

THE CHINESE MUST GO.—A gentleman who happened to overhear a conversation, has handed us the following paragraph. Two school girls on their way to the high school on the morning after the democratic procession. First girl, indignantly: "O dear, they say the Chinese must go;" the Chinese must go." Second girl, positively: "Yes, the Chinese must go into the kitchen or there will be no [illegible]."

A STEAM YACHT.—Jacob Hansen of Salem, has completed a fine steam yacht on which he has been engaged for the past season. The craft is 23 feet long, 4 feet 10 inches beam and 5 feet depth of hold, and has accommodations for twelve passengers. It will be used for pleasure parties on the Willamette. The boat and machinery will be inspected by the authorities here next week.

[illegible] STOLEN.—A number of dishes and articles of silverware were left in the Presbyterian church for the social Tuesday evening. Yesterday morning when the ladies came to remove them it was discovered that a silver caster belonging to [illegible] D. Smith and a silver cake basket belonging to [illegible] M. Smith were missing. It is supposed the articles were stolen.

[illegible] INJURED.—Mr. N. S. Johnson, of the firm of Johnson & Taffe, who own a planing mill on C street, met with a very painful accident a few days ago. While working about one of the machines the middle finger of his left hand were caught, and so cut and mangled that they had to be amputated at the knuckles.

[illegible] GAMBLING.—Isaac Grattan and Thomas [illegible] were each arraigned yesterday before [illegible] on charges of gambling. The defendants entered pleas of guilty and were fined $50 and costs. [illegible] was arraigned on two charges. They [illegible] imposed, which aggregated over $100, [illegible] in peace.

[illegible] LOCKS.—Cols. Chas. S. Stewart, R. J. [illegible] and G. H. Mende, of the Pacific coast board of engineers, who arrived on the Columbia, left yesterday morning by special boat, the Willamette [illegible] to examine the Cascade locks, accompanied by [illegible] L. Gillespie, of this city. They will return this evening.

[illegible] CORVALLIS.—From a passenger on the west [illegible] it is learned that the residence of Joseph [illegible] of Corvallis was destroyed by fire Tuesday [illegible] about dark. Most of the furniture was [illegible]. The loss is $2000. Our informant was unable to learn whether the property was insured.

[illegible]—The two men arrested for burglary by [illegible] upon the arrival of the Astoria boat, in [illegible] with instructions from Chief Barry, of [illegible], were taken back to Astoria yesterday, where [illegible] be tried.

[illegible]—Capt. Geo. H. Lane, formerly [illegible] of the steamer Cassiar in Alaskan [illegible], has been appointed pilot of the O. R. & N. [illegible] T. Church.

[illegible] FAIR.—The date of the Unitarian [illegible] has been fixed for Friday evening [illegible] and the following afternoon (Sat-[illegible]).

[illegible] SUSPENDED.

[illegible] formal charges were preferred [illegible] Thomas Mountain, of the Portland [illegible], and a court of inquiry was appointed [illegible] M. V. Brown to investigate the charges. [illegible] in session for several days, and, on [illegible] forwarded the testimony taken during [illegible] and their findings to Gen. Brown, who, [illegible] investigating the case reinstated [illegible] and exonerated him from the charges.

[illegible] it seems that the trouble which has for [illegible] existed between Capt. Mountain and [illegible] members of the battery has reached a [illegible]. From the following order it will appear [illegible] Mountain has been indefinitely suspended [illegible] command:

HEADQUARTERS 2D BRIGADE, O. S. M.,
ALBANY, Oregon, Nov. 8, 1880.
To the Committee of Portland Light Battery:

[illegible] your statement of Capt. Mountain's [illegible] of orders, was duly received, and in [illegible] with my promise to the battery and my [illegible] to Capt. Mountain I have this day forwarded to Maj. John M. Gearin, A. A. G., an order [illegible] suspending Capt. Thomas Mountain [illegible] command, and directing that the command of [illegible] be immediately turned over to Lieut. O. [illegible]

[illegible] regretting that Capt. Mountain has [illegible] fit to place himself in this most unenviable [illegible], and trusting that every officer and [illegible] of the battery will acquiesce in this action, [illegible] the honor and dignity of the militia [illegible]

[illegible] gentlemen, yours very truly,
M. V. BROWN,
Brig. Gen. Com'dg 2d Brigade O. S. M.

BRIEF NOTES.

Heavy chilly nights.

Last night of Prof. Taylor.

Streets and crossings are horrible.

Republicans rally to-morrow evening.

Congregational social to-morrow evening.

Remember the ratification to-morrow evening.

The Oregon will sail for Portland to-morrow morning.

Gen. Hancock himself concedes the election of James A. Garfield.

A real [illegible] may be expected at New Market theater to-morrow evening.

The Portland Hancock club has resolved itself into a social organization.

Two little girls run a milk route in the city, and they furnish a No. 1 article, too.

The steamer Columbia will sail hence Sunday morning, Nov. 14th, at 1 o'clock.

Mr. Shubrick Norris is building a business block on the corner of Alder and Fifth.

For twenty-seven hours ending at 12 o'clock last night only one old drunk was arrested.

The funeral of the late Rev. Father McCormick took place yesterday from the cathedral. The remains were buried at St. Mary's cemetery.

The social dance given last evening under the auspices of the G. A. R., was very numerously attended, and proved a very enjoyable affair.

The song, "A flower from my angel mother's grave" is getting to be as much of a bore as "Silver threads among the gold," or "My grandfather's clock." Gentlemen who can't sleep at night, and prowl around on serenading expeditions, will please make a note of this.

"Did you hear about that boy being washed ashore?" asked Glibooly of one of our most prominent citizens yesterday.

"No; when did that happen?"

"This morning."

"How was it?"

"He was washed ashore by his mother. You don't suppose she would take him out into the middle of the Willamette to wash him, do you?"

AMUSEMENTS.

LAST PERFORMANCE.—A large audience was present last evening to witness the performance of Prof. E. C. Taylor. The entertainment was unusually pleasing, several new feats being introduced during the evening. A number of presents were distributed at the close of the performance. The leading prize was $30. This evening will positively be the last performance that Prof. Taylor will give in this city. An attractive bill will be offered. The leading present this evening will be $35 in coin. Prof. Taylor announced last evening from the stage that no blanks would be distributed this evening; that every envelope will contain a ticket which will draw some prize. Prof. Taylor's performances have given very general public satisfaction, and been liberally patronized. A jammed house to-night may be expected.

NO BLANKS.—At Prof. Taylor's entertainment tonight, the last of his season here, every auditor will receive a present, as there will be no blanks. By special request the wonderful egg dance by M'lle La Grande and the extraordinary phantom bird cage trick will be repeated in addition to the usual excellent programme. The principal prize will be $35 in coin.

DRAMATIC AND MUSICAL.

At last accounts Barton Hill and Miss Josie Cameron were in New York.

Sol Smith Russell, Jr., made his appearance in this world on the 11th ult.

Rose Eytinge goes on a starring tour through the south under Cyril Searle's management.

What is the matter with the S. F. Chronicle? It speaks of Sam W. Piercy as "that stalwart actor."

Catoline Richings-Bernard, with whom Peter Gates came to this coast, is now playing "Star [illegible]" with a "Pinafore" company of her own.

Daniel E. Bandmann is now at Sydney, Australia, where he is earning fame and money. The newspapers give him great credit for his Hamlet.

Harry M. Brown, who was in Portland several years ago, has retired from the Leonard-[illegible] Burlesque Company and joined James A. Herne's "Hearts of Oak" combination.

The Sydney papers speak well of Louis Beaudet's playing in conjunction with Bandmann's Hamlet, and describe her as having been "the delight of San Francisco play-goers."

A San Francisco exchange of the 7th says: "Mrs. F. M. Bates has given up her proposed Oregon trip. In consequence of the difficulty in securing adequate support, and will leave this morning for Chicago."

This shower-bath of jokes comes from the Cincinnati Saturday Night: "Bear it in mind Bernhardt can't Palmer self off on us, and it will make her Mudderh blazes if she Anderson ain't tacked to Bible anyhow. She'll make a potta money, and it will be an Abbey man that manages her." Fifty dollars and six months would be a light punishment for such atrocities.

Among the passengers by the steamer Amerique, which brought over the famous Mme. Sara Bernhardt, was the widow of the famous Abraham Lincoln. The New York Dramatic News, in commenting on the extraordinary reception which the eccentric artiste was honored with on her arrival, winds up by saying: "It is a curious fact that while this ovation was being tendered Sara Bernhardt, the wife of the martyr president walked through the crowd unnoticed, a gray, faded old woman, jostled and pushed by Americans crowding to catch a glimpse of the French actress."

Sara Bernhardt is thus described: "Under the arched protruding headdress was a very attractive face, while from behind it floated curls a little cloud of curly hair, in color between light brown and golden. Her face is long, but wears no trace of that pinched expression made familiar by the photographs that have found their way to this side of the ocean. She has large gray eyes, a nose barely suggestive of her Hebrew origin, a large mouth, which when open, discloses a fine set of teeth, a well-rounded chin, small ears, cheeks though not plump, well filled out, and a small white throat. Her voice is musical and sympathetic." She brings a hundred and eighty pairs of shoes. They cannot count her gloves. She has with her eighteen pictures and several busts, and she only asks to visit Longfellow, who will be happy to hear that he is her favorite.

THE COMIC OPERA SEASON.

The entire Emelie Melville opera company arrived here yesterday morning on the steamer Columbia from San Francisco. Never before in the history of Portland has such a large and complete comic opera company visited this city. Miss Emelie Melville, who came as prima donna, is one of the few recognized exponents of comic opera on the American stage, and bears with her the highest endorsements of the press and public. She possesses a sweet and flexible voice, which is under the most admirable control, and as a charming, vivacious and brilliant actress has but few equals on the lyric stage.

She is ably seconded by Miss Grace Plaisted, the charming soprano and ingenue, Miss Sylvia Gerrish, Miss Jessie Lowe; Mr. Alonzo Hatch, leading lyric tenor, Max. Freeman, character buffo, Thomas [illegible], tenor robusto and comedian; also Fritz La Fountaine and C. M. Foster. Added to the above cast of excellent artists will be an admirable chorus of twenty voices, and the complete orchestra from the Bush Street Theater, numbering twelve pieces. These auxiliaries together with superb costumes, scenic effects, and other required adjuncts and careful rehearsals, give every assurance of perfect operatic representations, such as have not been witnessed before on New Market Theater stage.

To-morrow evening the season will be inaugurated and will consist of fifteen performances—twelve evening and three matinees. To all lovers of comic opera a delightful treat may be assured. The opening piece will be Richard Genee's "Royal Middy," with Miss Melville in the stellar role of "Fanchette."

In speaking of this opera and the characters, the San Francisco Call says: "The music is easy and catching, and there is plenty of it, particularly for 'Fanchette.' (Emelie Melville) afterwards the 'Royal Middy,' and for 'Maria Francesca,' the Queen of Portugal. The story is one of court gallantry and intrigue, in which the 'Royal Middy' appears to be the pivotal point. There is but little repose; in fact, the opera is motion from beginning to end. Miss Melville fills her exacting responsibilities admirably. Her arias are charmingly rendered, and her acting full of vivacity and spirit."

NEWS NOTES FROM EUGENE.

[REGULAR CORRESPONDENCE OF THE OREGONIAN.]

EUGENE, Nov. 10, 1880.

Agents for the various fire insurance companies are in town adjusting losses caused by the late fire.

Mr. Linsay Carson, a cousin of the famous "Kit" Carson, arrived at Eugene to-day from California and intends locating permanently in Lane county.

A company is being formed for the purpose of purchasing the lots in the burnt district with the view of erecting half a block of brick buildings in the place of those burnt by the recent fire. A large and commodious hall will also be erected.

At a meeting of our city councilmen the project of constructing waterworks, using the top of Skinner's butte for a reservoir and using iron pipes to carry water to different parts of the city, was discussed. A meeting of citizens to discuss the practicability of the scheme will be held next Friday evening.

Insufficient rain has fallen to wet the ground for good plowing, yet our farmers are making the best use of their time, and are driving ahead and turning over a large area of land. Past experience has taught farmers that the earliest sown grains are most remunerative, as it is less liable to be affected by rust or dry weather.

Woods the Hatter's umbrellas don't wilt with the first shower of rain, and his prices are 30 per cent less than any other house in Portland.

RELIGIOUS.

Proceedings of the Annual State Co-operation of the Christian Church.

Second Day.

Morning session was opened by reading the sixth chapter of [illegible] and prayer.

Elder P. R. Burnett in the chair.

Reading of minutes of the previous meeting.

The committee on nomination of officers of the association for the ensuing year made a report, nominating P. R. Burnett, of Salem, for chairman and Bruce Wolverton, secretary. The report was adopted.

The co-operation then proceeded to the election of a missionary board for the ensuing year. Brethren Bruce Wolverton, J. W. Cowles, R. H. Moss, [illegible], Frank Martin and H. A. [illegible], were duly elected to constitute a missionary board.

A written report of the present missionary board not having been received, Elder [illegible], of the board, made a verbal report of the principal work of the board during the year. He stated that Elders [illegible] V. Barnes and Bruce Wolverton had been employed a portion of the time during the past year, the latter in connection with evangelizing to solicit funds for the purchase of a lot in Portland. He recommended that a small part of the funds raised by the board the coming year be appropriated toward the support of pastoral work in Portland.

[illegible] committees.

[illegible], chairman of the committee on Sunday schools, made a brief verbal report, stating that while he believed this part of the church work to be of vital importance in the advancement of Christ's cause, the committee have been unable to make any great progress, yet was pleased to report that in many of the congregations of the state Sunday school interests were prospering. He recommended this be given considerable attention by the evangelists under the employ of the missionary board. The subject was postponed to the afternoon session.

Report from the "lot-fund" committee was read, stating that the sum of three thousand dollars had been pledged for the purchase of a church building lot in Portland, of which amount about $1100 had already been collected. Committee asked for further time to make final report, as all collections may be made.

Motion prevailed to defer to a committee of three to report at a future time. Committee appointed as follows: J. W. Cowles, D. H. Deardorff and [illegible].

[illegible] deliberation the committee brought in the following report, viz: Since continual pledges have been given by different brethren throughout the state, and certain parts of Clackamas, Washington, Columbia and Wasco counties and [illegible] churches in Washington territory have not been thoroughly canvassed, and since the Portland church have not paid in all their subscription, they recommend that the committee for the relief of this burden be instructed to raise as much of the amount as possible from such places as designated.

The report of the committee was adopted.

Returned to third order of business.

Reports were read from the following churches, viz: Amity, Chehalem and McMinnville, Yamhill county.

On location of the state co-operation, motion prevailed to appoint a committee to report place for next meeting. Committee recommended that the same be held at Amity, which report was adopted.

Afternoon Session.

Session was opened by prayer by Edward Barton.

Reports from the following churches were read, viz: Bethel and Amity.

The time of holding next state co-operation was taken up. Motion made designating Tuesday after third Sunday in June.

Amendment made designating the second Tuesday in November, and the motion prevailed as amended.

Motion that this time be made permanent laid on the table.

The committee to whom was referred "form of church reports" made a report, which was referred back to the committee for further action.

The annual report of the treasurer of the missionary board, made a report showing receipts and disbursements, which report was adopted with amendments.

The report of the missionary board from L. C. Adams, secretary, having been received, the same was read and adopted.

Committee on programme reported as a sixth subject for discussion, Sunday school; fifth subject, the form of church letters, taken up, and on motion the meeting was resolved into a committee of the whole, when the same was discussed at considerable length by R. H. Moss, P. R. Burnett, A. H. Currey, J. W. Cowles, Jonathan Todd, Bruce Wolverton and others. Subject of Sunday school and the promotion of the Sunday school interest, was made the subject for the morning session on Thursday. Dismissed with prayer by Elder J. Todd.

Elder P. R. Burnett was announced to preach at the Nonpareil Hall, at 3 P. M.

Elder R. H. Moss will preach this (Thursday) evening, at 7:30.

THE NORTHWEST.

Western Oregon.

The steamer Harley has been taken behind Tongue point and beached for repairs.

The Melancthon loaded with lumber at Knappton Tuesday and dropped down to Baker's bay.

Wheat is quoted at Dayton, 80c sacked, butter, 50c ℔, eggs, 20c ℔ doz, potatoes, 75c per bushel.

The deaf mute school at Salem is uncomfortably crowded, and there are still several pupils to come.

Some of the buoys in Cathlamet bay are so worn that it is hard to tell a red or black color, one from the other.

Capt. L. H. D. Gray and Dr. W. D. Baker were marshals of the torch light procession in Astoria last Saturday evening, and not I. W. Case, as reported.

Peter Yenke, a native of Prussia and a resident of Salem and vicinity since 1854, died on the Hoxie farm near that city on the 5th inst., aged 84 years.

Hon. A. R. Burbank of Lafayette, has had the portrait of his daughter Eva lately painted, safely taken to his home. It is life size and very finely executed.

A man known as Dutch Henry, who has been living of late on Humbug creek, Nehalem valley, committed suicide by shooting himself in the breast with a revolver, week before last. He had been occupying the cabin of C. Rierson, alone, and was found on Sunday night, Oct. 31, in bed, supposed to have been dead two or three days. From appearances it seems that after shooting himself he hung the revolver on a nail in the wall, walked about the room, then out into the shed, lain down on an elk skin, thence to the bed where he was found.

Washington Territory.

Yakima county gives Brents 23 majority.

The Seattle Intelligencer figures Brents' majority at 1626, which is probably too high.

The whole republican ticket of Snohomish was elected with the exception of sheriff and treasurer. So far as heard from Brents' majority is 53.

Oak is found near Lake Washington that is equal to the best eastern oak. It is being tested by Chas. McDonald, who is constructing trucks for the Starr line.

A new town was surveyed last Thursday on the premises of Philip George. This new candidate for city honors is situated on the Touchet, just above Waitsburg and is christened Georgetown.

During three days of last week neither sail nor steam vessel lay at the wharf of the Wellington Coal Company. This is said to be a rare occurrence there, and one worthy of special mention.

Jerry Terry, in driving a load of wood through a gate near Yakima City, struck his head against a heavy beam, extending from upright posts on each side, receiving injuries from which he died on the following day.

Wood is $6 a cord in Lewiston.

Governor Neil and family reached Boise City on the 2d inst.

The Brearly flouring mill, Lewiston, will be running in a few days. The ditch is about completed. Mulkey's mill will also be running in a few days and with wheat at 35 cents per bushel the people of that locality ought to be well and cheaply supplied with flour.

There is a great demand in the Wood river district for freight teams to haul ore. There are hundreds of tons of fine ore now awaiting transportation, and if there had been plenty of transportation, there would have been a great deal more; but the want of transportation discouraged miners and caused them to relax their energies and turn their attention to prospecting rather than to the development of their mines.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

The South Austrian Earthquake.

LONDON, Nov. 10.—Particulars from Agram in Croatia concerning the earthquake felt throughout south Austria yesterday, state that 200 houses [illegible] were irreparably damaged. Part of the cathedral must be rebuilt. The palace and country seat of the cardinal archbishop, government school and cigar manufactory, were half destroyed. Buildings within a radius of 12 miles were terribly damaged.

Gold for America.

LONDON, Nov. 10.—Nearly $2,000,000 were withdrawn from the bank for America to-day.

Forster's Movements.

LONDON, Nov. 10.—Forster chief secretary for Ireland, left Dublin for London.

Will Remain Out.

DUBLIN, Nov. 10.—At a meeting of the land league a letter from L. H. Donnelly, M. P., was read, withdrawing his request for admission to the league.

Land League Meeting.

DUBLIN, Nov. 10.—At the meeting of the Land League to-day Justin McCarthy was elected a member. Parnell addressed a meeting at Belleek, county of Fermanagh, yesterday.

LONDON, Nov. 10.—Parnell announced that the meeting at Belleek, county Fermanagh, yesterday, was the opening of a land campaign in the north of Ireland. The meeting was well attended despite the inclemency of the weather. Resolutions were passed inviting the people, regardless of religious differences to write on the land question.

The French Cabinet Hubbub.

PARIS, Nov. 10.—It is hoped an arrangement will be effected in regard to the resignation of the ministry.

Fully fifty members of the chamber of deputies have assured the ministers that they did not, by last night's vote, desire to upset the cabinet. Gambetta considers that Jules Ferry can, without the loss of dignity, withdraw his resignation.

Negotiations among the Recalcitrant.

At a numerously attended meeting of members of the left of the chamber of deputies to-day, Devès and Senard, republicans, said they gathered from interviews with members of the cabinet that if the order of the day expressing confidence in the government's general policy were carried by a majority of two hundred, the members of the cabinet would probably withdraw their resignation. The left unanimously instructed its bureau to arrange with the bureau of the republican union for an interpellation to the government. The left also agreed to terms of the motion expressing complete adherence to the ministerial statement.

PARIS, Nov. 10.—The left and left centre are favorable to the cabinet, but the extreme left is hostile, while the republican union attaches certain reservations to its support of the government. Although the latter declares that yesterday's vote does not imply a want of confidence in the cabinet, it adheres to the course it has pursued.

Ferry-Gambetta Interview.

PARIS, Nov. 10.—It is said that Gambetta, at an interview with Jules Ferry to-day, asked him to withdraw his resignation.

French Cabinet Meeting.

PARIS, Nov. 10.—The meeting of ministers and under secretaries lasted from eight until midnight. The ministers finally determined, at the request of President Grevy, to defer a decision concerning resignations. There will be another cabinet council this morning.

Cause of the Trouble.

The Journal Des Debats, Republique Francaise, Siecle, and other republican papers, consider yesterday's vote due to a deplorable misunderstanding, and express a hope that the ministers will retain their ports. Radical papers declare for a new cabinet or dissolution of the chambers.

Fighting for their Faith.

A rumor being current on the 8th at Turcoing, that the religious decrees were to be enforced against Marists, 3000 persons assembled before the doors of the convent. Shortly afterwards many members of Catholic clubs arrived and a serious disturbance between factions ensued. Numerous grave affrays occurred. Sticks and stones were freely used, and several windows in the convent were broken. gendarmes repeatedly charged on the crowd and 40 persons were injured.

Anarchy or Starvation.

ROME, Nov. 8.—The Aurora organ of the Vatican publishes an article favorable to the Irish land league, in which it says: "In consequence of the insupportable state of the Irish peasantry the people must shake off their oppression. The crimes committed in Ireland are not attributable to the land league. A radical reform is indispensable, otherwise Ireland will be compelled to choose between anarchy and starvation.

Revival of Rabelais.

[M. D. Conway, in Harper's for November.]

If France had not become a republic, it is probable Rabelais would still have to wait for his statue. The clerical and monarchical parties do not understand him yet; they still beat and stone the old mystical effigy, labeled with his name, but inside which he never was; but they rightly feel that he started that titanic laughter at all shams—that terrible side-shaking, throne-and-altar-shaking laughter—which has never ceased. The average priest and bourgeois have never cracked the bone and got the marrow, but they have felt it about their ears. The revival of interest in Rabelais is remarkable. The works which have been written concerning him during the last thirty years are worth all that went before. But the greater part of the work on Rabelais yet remains to be done. Behind his mask, are concealed also some of the finest chapters of the renaissance and of the reformation. There are treasures buried with him, compared with which those of Troy are trifling. It is to be hoped that when the four hundredth anniversary of his birth has brought scholars to Chinon, the unveiled statues may be followed by the unveiled man.

Before and Behind the Curtains.

[From the Petroleum World.]

Antony—You all do know this mantle. Look! In this place ran Cassius' dagger through. See what a rent the envious Casca made. Through this the well-beloved Brutus stabbed.

Brutus (aside)—He's a liar by the watch. That's the hole great Cæsar used to put his head through, and it's the hole through which the well-beloved tailor stabbed when he made it.

Antony—And when he plucked his cursed steel away, mark you, how the blood of Cæsar followed it!

Brutus (aside)—It's no such thing. That's red paint. I saw a boy daub it on back of the scenes not two minutes ago. I'm up to this little game.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

LONDON, Nov. 10.—Consols, 99 13-16 money, 99 13-16 account. Silver, English standard, per fine ounce 925 fine, 51 13-16.

U. S. Bonds, 5s of '81, 104[illegible]; 1[illegible], 111[illegible]; 4s, 113[illegible].

Closed—5s, 104[illegible].

LONDON, Nov. 10.—Silver, [illegible]; new [illegible]; Erie, 44[illegible].

The wires bring news of a decidedly firm feeling in the bond market at the financial centers of the country, an indication that the utmost confidence is felt in the securities of the government. The proposition of the secretary of the treasury to purchase 2,500,000 of the '81s in New York to-day met with no offers, holders putting a higher estimate on them than before the election. Two million dollars were also to-day drawn from the banks of London for shipment to the United States, an evidence of the confidence of the capitalists of the old world in the stability of American finances. In the local money market there is a fair degree of activity, and transactions, though not individually important, are large in the aggregate. There is some disposition to shade rates a little, but the main volume of transactions is about on the basis of quotations for some weeks past.

In the wheat market there is quite a firm feeling especially among holders, who are encouraged by the reports from England and San Francisco. The vessels here are filling up with fair dispatch, and the general disposition on both sides seems to be to operate with more freedom. About 15,000 centals were received during the twenty-four hours ending at noon to-day, of which one-third were from east of the mountains.

There are now in port and in the river nine grain ships—City of Delhi, Singapore, Edwin Reed, A. M. Simpson, Oberon, Chandos, Carmelo, Childers and Ringleader. Their aggregate tonnage is about 12,000 tons. Exporters here quote wheat at $1 45, and it is claimed that $1 47½ is occasionally paid. With tonnage at the now ruling figure, it is clear that $1 45 is about all the market will stand, and everything above that is paid under extraordinary circumstances.

A San Francisco paper agitates the question of a new route for wheat shipment from this coast via the Southern Pacific railroad to Galveston or New Orleans and thence to Liverpool, arguing that the grain can be sent from gulf ports to England for $5 per ton, and that if railway charges are not over $11 50, the new route would be cheaper, considering the gain in time, both for California and Oregon. Such a scheme would be a good one for the bay city, but it is doubtful if it be practicable or that it would result in better prices for the producers.

Flour is quiet but steady at quotations last given. Oats are in light receipt with some improvement in the demand and an advancing tendency in prices. Eggs are selling at 37½@40c ℔ dozen and are very scarce. Wool and hides tend upward and are in active demand. Other products unchanged.

NEW YORK FREIGHTS AND MARKETS.

[SPECIAL TO THE OREGONIAN.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—Freight markets remain much as before noted. A fair amount of goods is going forward, but without any appearance of activity. Rates are about the same as previously quoted, although no doubt good round lots of desirable freight could be placed at a lower figure. The ship Merwin to load for Portland direct is not yet on berth. The steamer sailing to-day had a very fair freight for San Francisco, including 10 boxes raisins, 76 cases milk, 620 cs canned goods, 75 cs canned fish, 20 cs butter, 100 tons pig iron, 340 bars railroad iron, also 715 bales cotton and 150 cs milk for China and Japan.

The markets, although not at all active, have a steady and firm tone.

The Most Successful Physician on the Pacific Coast, IN THE TREATMENT OF ALL CHRONIC AND DIFFICULT DISEASES

DR. BRENAN WILL GUARANTEE TO CURE any form of disease of the generative organs or private disease.

He has become an expert in the treatment of disease, weakness and derangement of the reproductive organs of both male and female, including diseases caused by the

FOLLIES OF YOUTH,

such as SPERMATORRHEA, or SEMINAL WEAKNESS, or LOSS OF PERFECT VITALITY. Nearly two-thirds of all the Chronic Diseases spring, either directly or indirectly, from some derangement of the sexual system, and yet this subject is neglected by the majority of the Medical Profession.

I know that persons who are unfortunate enough to be afflicted by any form of sexual disease have a delicacy in calling upon the proper physician in time, from a sense of modesty and sometimes from ignorance, and permit those diseases to ex st until their constitutions become corrupted, the organization broken down and the hope of future happiness blighted, until death becomes a welcome messenger to carry them out of their miserable existence.

Everything strictly confidential under all circumstances.

Lost manhood perfectly restored.

Catarrh, Bronchitis Throat Diseases, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Kidney Complaint and all Diseases of the Eye and Ear, Stomach and Bladder, he can cure without fail.

DR. C. McLANE'S

CELEBRATED

FOR THE CURE OF

Hepatitis, or Liver Complaint,

DYSPEPSIA AND SICK HEADACHE.

Symptoms of a Diseased Liver.

PAIN in the right side, under the edge of the ribs, increases on pressure; sometimes the pain is in the left side; the patient is rarely able to lie on the left side; sometimes the pain is felt under the shoulder blade, and it frequently extends to the top of the shoulder, and is sometimes mistaken for rheumatism in the arm. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness; the bowels in general are costive, sometimes alternative with lax; the head is troubled with pain, accompanied with a dull, heavy sensation in the back part. There is generally a considerable loss of memory, accompanied with a painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. A slight, dry cough is sometimes an attendant. The patient complains of weariness and debility; he is easily startled, his feet are cold or burning, and he complains of a prickly sensation of the skin, his spirits are low; and although he is satisfied that exercise would be beneficial to him, yet he can scarcely summon up fortitude enough to try it. In fact, he distrusts every remedy. Several of the above symptoms attend the disease, but cases have occurred where few of them existed, yet examination of the body, after death, has shown the LIVER to have been extensively deranged.

AGUE AND FEVER.

DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, IN CASES OF AGUE AND FEVER, when taken with Quinine, are productive of the most happy results. No better cathartic can be used, preparatory to, or after taking Quinine. We would advise all who are afflicted with this disease to give them a FAIR TRIAL.

For all bilious derangements, and as a simple purgative, they are unequaled.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS.

The genuine are never sugar coated.

Every box has a red wax seal on the lid, with the impression DR. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS.

The genuine McLANE'S LIVER PILLS bear the signatures of C. McLANE and FLEMING BROS. on the wrappers.

Insist upon having the genuine DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, prepared by Fleming Bros., of Pittsburgh, Pa., the market being full of imitations of the name McLane, spelled differently but same pronunciation.

TO

Sportsmen and Tourists.

THE UPPER CASCADES AND VICINITY, AT the present season offers the finest inducements of perhaps any locality within a radius of 200 miles of Portland. Lake, brook and mountain trout await the disciples of the "gentle art" whilst the followers of Nimrod can fool with the festive deer and frolicsome cougar to their heart's content, whilst deer are not unknown.

An elegant and comfortable hotel (The Borthwick House) is now established with Portland prices, and reliable guides, dogs, boats, guns, and everything necessary for an outfit, can be had within ten minutes.

The glorious mountain scenery, elegant river views, and enormous government works, alone, will amply repay a visit.
